Lavender Class News

Lavender class have had such a wonderful time recently. As a group we have picked apart stories such as Paddington in London and created our own version of 'We're Going on a Bear/Lion Hunt.' We made exotic masks using knowledge we had gathered through research to help in our understanding tribal history as well as looking into different materials and forces in our science work. We always strive to be the best communicators and friends we can be. We have embedded the use of communication boards that help several of our learners gain a good level of autonomy of their education experience. We can't get enough of technology in Lavender. From switch work to video editing, we are experiencing some unique learning opportunities that help with our confidence and self-awareness, including live video, sound effects and reflective editing to accompany our topic.

We have come back after Easter and we can't wait to embark on our egg-celent space
